

RESEARCH & DEVELOPMENT

The technological know-how is the result of an in-depth research work that for more than twenty years has also seen the collaboration with leading Universities of Agriculture, Environment and Territory / Microorganisms and Chemical Process Engineering, through doctorates and scholarships for research continues the processes applied and the use of derivative products.

